General Accounting Office, 2000 OCLC Number: (OCoLC)55668602 Subject: Pharmaceutical industry -- United States. Excerpt: . . . Many programs said they require information about the patients income and drug and health insurance status to determine eligibility for assistance (see table 3). Some programs reported that they request other information from the applicant and most programs said they require a physicians name and signature. Almost half of the programs reported that they rely solely on the health care provider to validate the patients information, while 31 programs said that the patient must provide some type of documentation to support the information on the application. For example, some programs require documentation of the patients income, such as a tax return, or require documentation that the patient is ineligible for public programs such as Medicaid. Table 3: Patient Assistance Programs Information Requirements Programs that require Type of information information (n 72) Patient information Income 53 Existing drug coverage 48 Existing health insurance coverage 43 Diagnosis 32 Medical expenses 19 Ineligibility for prescription drug coverage 16 Assets 14 Physician information Name 67 Signature 64 DEA or license number 59 Source: GAO analysis of survey data. More than three-quarters of the patient assistance programs responding to Drug Distribution and our survey indicated they distribute drugs to approved patients through Payment Requirements health care providers. Most of the remaining programs indicated they send the drug directly to the patient or give the patient a voucher or card that allows him or her to obtain the drug from a pharmacy. Some providers said that it can be difficult for them to manage the storage and distribution of drugs. Several providers said...
