

A Woman in Wartime London: The Diary of Kathleen Tipper 1941-1945 (Hardback)

By Kathleen Tipper

London Record Society, United Kingdom, 2006. Hardback. Book Condition: New. 249 x 155 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book. Kathleen Tipper was just twenty years old in September 1939. Her parents had met while making munitions in the Woolwich Arsenal during the Great War and Kathleen lived with them and her younger brother and sister at the family s council house in Appleton Road. Eltham. Grammar-school educated, she worked as a clerk for a shipping company near the Strand. Like so many of the young women around her she was poised to take advantage of the new opportunities for work and leisure that London in the thirties offered as never before. But Kathleen s life - indeed, the lives of all Londoners - would change for ever in the six years after declaration of war on 3 September. This was a moment of quite extraordinary drama. And Kathleen s diary, kept for Mass-Observation from July 1941 till peace in 1945 and beyond, offers a unique personal insight into one young woman s war. We keep her company through the daily comings and goings of family, friends, work and relaxation - all played out against a backdrop of cataclysmic events...

READ ONLINE
[6.06 MB]

Reviews

This book is great. I could possibly comprehend everything using this published e book. I am easily could possibly get a enjoyment of reading a published pdf.

-- Deanna Rath I

These sorts of book is the greatest book offered. This can be for all those who statte that there had not been a really worth reading. I am just quickly could get a pleasure of reading a written ebook.

-- Verner Goyette DDS