Excerpt: .could not but be commensurate with their exertions. Whether our being constantly in the evening and generally on Sunday in each others company; or that the little attention; . and assiduous which we were in the habit of paying them, won upon them; or the selection that we were separated. by immense ocean. from our parents, and from our homes--in a foreign country--and, young as we were, buffeting about in a tempestuous world. without one friend to buoy us up should we be sinking. or impart consolation and advice to us. I know of no other way in which we stand in need of it, certain it is, they took a particular interest in our welfare and happiness. Clara, however, who, short of stature, was finely formed; she possessed that winning softness of features which every one must admire, whilst her eyes and...

Reviews

This is actually the finest ebook we have gone through until now. It is written in straightforward words and phrases instead of difficult to understand. It has been designed in a remarkably straightforward way and is particularly just following I finished reading through this book by which basically changed me, change the way in my opinion.

-- Gillian Wisoky

The most effective publication I ever go through. It really is written in simple phrases and not hard to understand. I am just easily will get a satisfaction of looking at a written publication.
